The deAnza Monument on Tesla Road in Livermore to be dedicated at 3 p.m. on Sunday is the work of the San Ramon - Amador Valley Exchange Club. As part of the club's bicentennial project, Exchange members took two days to build the concrete structure. It weighs approximately 6,000 pounds and displays two plaques — one commemorating the deAnza expedition and another noting the site and the club's participation. The effort was supervised by Capt. Lee Basner and Postmaster Dave Eldridge. (Times photo.)

Historic re-enactment

Final plans near completion for de Anza Arrival Sunday

LIVERMORE — Final plans are being completed for the historic arrival of the de Anza re-enactment party in Livermore.

Saturday night a gala performance at the Paramount Theatre, Oakland, will kick off festivities. Tickets are still available ($4 to $7) — the Ballet Folklorico and film star Ricardo Montalban will head a long cast of Mexican celebrities.

Sunday is the day the expedition reaches Livermore, arriving from San Joaquin County.

A fiesta in honor of their arrival begins at noon in The Barn just off South Livermore Avenue. Mexican entertainment and charros, native food and an evening barbecue highlight the all-day party.

At 3 p.m., the expedition members (including county supervisor Charles Santana portraying de Anza) will arrive, on foot and horseback, at Campsite 102, Corral Hollow, 11 miles south of Livermore on Tesla Road. There, they will dedicate a monument near the spot where the original expedition camped 200 years ago.

At 4:30 p.m., the Pleasanton Bicentennial Band will hold a concert at the Livermore Library next to the Barn. At 5 o'clock, the expedition party is expected to arrive at the spot and Msgr. Robert Adams of St. Michael's Church will officiate at dedication of a monument there.

From 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., the citizens of Livermore are invited to join officials and de Anza expedition members at a steak barbecue. A limited number of tickets are available in advance from Gib Marguth, 447-5568.

Juan Bautista de Anza, a captain in the Spanish army in the frontier presidio of Tubac, now in present-day Arizona, had a dream of opening an overland passage to Alta California.

He petitioned the Viceroy of Mexico, Antonio Maria Bucareli y Ursua, for permission to take a small party of soldiers on an exploratory trip to Monterey.

Soon after this successful journey, Anza was summoned to the capital city and there was promoted to Lt Colonel. He was allowed his "impossible dream" to take a group of colonizers over his land route to found the City of St. Francis. He has been acknowledged to be the earliest, most intrepid explorer and colonizer on the North American Continent.

Descendants of the explorers were early settlers and founders of several towns in Alameda County, including Livermore.

The re-enactment has been designed as an approved Bicentennial project by Alameda County, the federal administration, State of California and Arizona Bicentennial Commissions. It has been officially recognized by the Republic of Mexico.

Ten delegates from Alameda County went to Mexico City on Aug. 17 of last year to begin the re-enactment.

Valley to join in fiesta

LIVERMORE — The valley community is invited to participate in the fiesta being staged Sunday to celebrate Spanish explorer Juan Bautista de Anza's expedition 200 years ago that took him along the Arroyo Mocho at Coral Hollow near the former town of Tesla.

To celebrate this historic event, the Livermore Bicentennial Organization and the Latin Organization for Betterment will sponsor a fiesta complete with entertainment and art from noon to 9 p.m. at The Barn on Pacific Avenue (behind the Police Administrative Building on S.

Livermore Avenue). Admission is free.

Monuments will be dedicated to de Anza with one along Tesla Road and the other near the Livermore Library. Ceremonies for the library location dedication will begin at 4:30 p.m. and feature the Pleasanton Bicentennial Band.

Entertainment during the day will be provided by the Ballet Infantil Jalisco de Abel Zamani, Mariachi Allegre, and Ballet Folklorico. Introducing the acts will be Manuel and Annamarie Prado who are natives of Columbia and will introduce the Mexican-American talent in both English and Spanish. Mexican art and jewelry will be on display and available for purchase. Games for youngsters will be offered and Mexican food and drinks will be sold during the afternoon.

Another special feature of the day is a steer which will be roasted over an open pit in the traditional manner. A steak dinner will be served starting at 6 p.m. and tickets — which must be purchased in advance from members of the organizations sponsoring the fiesta — are $3 each. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Fair premium books available

The County Fair has begun to distribute premium books for the 1976 Fair to prospective exhibitors.

Available for distribution six weeks ahead of previous years, the 1976 premium book offers many additions, including special Bicentennial divisions in many departments, and a total of more than $108,000 in premium awards and special prizes for exhibitors.

"We are optimistic," comments Fair Association Manager Lee Hall, "that the earlier distribution date will allow exhibitors sufficient time to plan and prepare for the added exhibit divisions, with more persons being allowed to enter in more areas."

Each major department in the Fair has been thoroughly reviewed and updated. Older and less interesting divisions and classes have been replaced with newer and more popular divisions to encourage entries which are more representative of the interests of the majority of people attending the Fair.

In conjunction with the changes in the premium book, the home economics department will be moved to the climate-controlled Young California Building to provide more and better exhibit space for the anticipated increase in exhibits.

In 1976, one might expect to find red, white and blue gardens, or a pen of red, white and blue rabbits at the Fair, and always the promise of something of interest for every member of the family.

Exhibitors who have exhibited at the Fair within the past two years will automatically receive entry forms and premium book information. New exhibitors desiring entry information should write: Premium Book, Alameda County Fair, P.O. Box 579, Pleasanton, Calif. 94566, or telephone 415-846-2881 or 415-537-4797.

Juan Ignacio Rodriguez, a vascular surgeon from Mexico City and the Gran Charro of Mexico, will be portraying the explorer de Anza on the expedition's Sunday afternoon entry into Livermore. (Times photo by Reina Whitney)

Good vibes ala carte

Amador Golden Don band members are really the intrepid types. Hopeful of going to New Westminster, Canada later this spring, they'll be out in force April 6 and 7 — though not necessarily by the above mode of transportation — to sell tickets for a raffle that will provide the winners with $125, $75 and $50 in groceries from Lucky Stores. Speeding down the sidewalk in front of Amador are Sue Weigt (the one with the tuba draped about her neck) and Hope Clemens. Larry Frisa "hoots" a warning to pedestrians while Carl Krause, Jr. keeps tight hold of the groceries. Tickets will go for a $1 donation and band members will sell ducats between 6:30 and 9 on April 6 and 7. Winners will be drawn at the band parents dance April 24 at the Veterans Building in Pleasanton.

Geothermal project

Lab will study saline energy

LIVERMORE — Lawrence Livermore Laboratory has received a $500,000 contract from the Energy Research and Development Administration to provide technical assistance to a project to harness high saline geothermal brines and gain information on the extent and characteristics of a geothermal reservoir at Imperial Valley.

The joint project is being conducted by the San Diego Gas and Electric and ERDA.

The project involves construction and operation of a 10-megawatt size system in which clean steam would be extracted from the brine in a series of four stages of separators and steam scrubbers.

The steam would be passed through heat exchangers to vaporize a secondary fluid which could ultimately be used to drive turbogenerators.

Dr. Roy Austin, leader of the LLL geothermal program, said that the LLL effort will consist of relevant complementary research to develop basic information on the processes critical to system operation, and to provide technical assistance as needed.

LLL will conduct a major effort to evaluate the potential mechanisms governing precipitation and scaling, identification and characterization of brine chemistry as it passes through the system, and identification of corrosion mechanisms of critical plant components.

LLL has been engaged in a geothermal utilization program aimed at development of an advanced technology for harnessing the high salinity brines.

Today is the final day for young women to enter the Maid of Pleasanton contest. Entry forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce office on Neal Street.

Tickets will be $7.50 per person and the main course will be turkey.

Ten young women have entered to date. They are seeking the crown now worn by Lori Hickman.

An announcement of the new pageant coordinator will be made Sunday in The Times.

Rejected last year

BART board votes to buy 'improved' equipment

Lesher News Bureau

OAKLAND — Bay Area Rapid Transit directors have called for bids on automatic train control equipment which was rejected as inadequate last year.

The BART board Thursday decided that enough modifications had been made to automatic train control equipment aboard trains that they could attempt to buy 29 sets.

General Manager Frank Herringer explained that in January 1975 the board of directors decided not to readvertise bids on the equipment after it determined the items built by the low-bidding Westinghouse Corp. were unsatisfactory.

Since then, BART engineers have been working on modifications to Westinghouse equipment which had originally been installed on the trains.

Now, Herringer said, BART needs the equipment in order to put 26 "A" cars into service.

Without those cars, BART will be unable to expand service on the Richmond-Daly City and Concord-Daly City lines.

Herringer said a "major obstacle" to getting the train control equipment had been the lack of responsive bids because Westinghouse is likely to be the only bidder.

Because BART is suing Westinghouse, that firm had objected to several provisions of the first bid.

But, Herringer continued, Westinghouse has withdrawn some of those objections and should be able to build the equipment in six to nine months, if it gets the contract.

BART officials told the board that the district staff is slowly redesigning the train control system and will still need the Westinghouse components.

The modifications made to the original Westinghouse equipment appear to have relieved some of the serious reliability problems in the radio crystals which determine a train's speed, identification, their power supply and performance levels.

BART's modifications, coupled with changes made by Westinghouse should result in equipment that works reliably, Herringer said.

Director Nello Bianco voiced the only opposition to calling for bids on the contract.

John Kirkwood, director from San Francisco, warned that the bids receive "extremely critical judgment."

Orthodox

WALNUT CREEK — St. Michael the Archangel Orthodox Mission will have its monthly council meeting next week. This will be an important meeting and all parishioners are urged to be the only bidder.

The Wednesday night Presanctified services at Holy Trinity Cathedral in San Francisco have been very successful. The supers following the service have been delicious and the discussion group has been both enjoyable and informative.

Health council open

Drugs, alcohol, family counseling, air and water pollution, hospital crisis services, parental stress, services for the elderly — are you content with what's being done in the valley to cope with these problems?

Do you know of any health care services that are not being offered currently to valley residents that should be?

If you are interested in these problems, and have ideas about possible solutions, you are invited to join the Citizen's Advisory Council to the Alameda County Health Care Services Agency.

The CAC is open to everyone. Several positions on the 21-member executive board are also available.

The Valley Council is one of five in Alameda County that assists in planning and developing the most appropriate and highest priority health services for the valley.

Meetings are held monthly on the second Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Valley Memorial Hospital Conference Room 3.

If interested in becoming a member of the CAC, plan to attend the April 8 meeting, when the speaker will be Tobi Nickerson, of Project AIRE.

Nickerson will discuss some new trends in alcohol abuse, summarize the services available in Alameda County to meet the needs of alcohol abusers, and review some of the state legislation involving alcohol funding and program requirements.

For further information call Jim Knowles, CAC chairman, at 846-6079.

Mormon Tabernacle Choir

The world famous Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle Choir stands before the 11,000 organ pipes in the historic Tabernacle on Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah, where the choir will provide music for the annual world conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, April 3 to 6.

The Latter-day Saints plan world conference

Joyful music and inspired words offer answers to the challenges of today's complex world during the annual world conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The conference, April 3-6, in Salt Lake City, will feature the music of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir under the direction of Dr. Jerold D. Ottley. The 375-voice choir has won world fame through its tours, record albums and its weekly radio and television program, "Music and the Spoken Word," now in its fifth decade.

President Spencer W. Kimball, world leader of the 3.5 million member church, will preside over the conference. Speakers will include, in addition to President Kimball, members of the first presidency, N. Eldon Tanner and Marion G. Romney, as well as other top authorities of the church. The family moral living, service to others, loyalty and the life of Jesus Christ are some of the topics on which speakers will concentrate as they offer ways to meet the world's challenges.

World conferences are held twice each year, during the first week in April and in October. Beginning in April of 1830, conferences have been held to bring the body of church membership together to receive counsel and instruction from church leaders.

While thousands will attend the conference in person in Salt Lake City, many thousands more will "attend" in their own homes through radio and television broadcasts. Over 350 radio and television stations will broadcast sessions to the United States, Canada, Mexico, Central America, South America, Japan, Europe, Africa, Australia and the Pacific.

For the tri-valley area coverage of many of the conference sessions will be provided by local radio and television networks. In addition arrangements have been made to provide direct wire coverage on Saturday, April 3, from 1 to 3 p.m. and on Sunday, April 4 and Tuesday, April 6 from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Pleasanton Stake Center, 6101 Valley Ave., Pleasanton.

The public is invited. The conference broadcasts will take place of the regularly scheduled Sunday services.

Mormon Broadcasts

You and your family are invited to the World Conference Broadcast in your own home where you'll hear and enjoy the music of the world-famous Mormon Tabernacle Choir coupled with messages of inspiration, instruction, and counsel for today's complex world by inspired leaders of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Want a finer lawn? Then read this!

Warren's research facilities, established twenty years ago, have under observation over 1,000 strains and species of grasses. Some of these grasses have been patented and are available to the public in various parts of the United States and Europe.

About ten years ago one of these new grasses...

BenSun (A-34)

KENTUCKY BLUEGRASS

...was introduced into California. Its performance has proven to be outstanding for these reasons:

- Rated first in shade tolerance (up to 65%) yet grows vigorously in full sunlight.
- Rated first in wear tolerance by a university doing turfgrass research. (Of eighteen top bluegrasses tested, for golf course use, BenSun (A-34) was the only grass to receive an excellent rating.)
- Quick to recover when injured and is used extensively on athletic fields and golf courses.
- Does well in most soils, and is highly drought resistant.
- Thrives in hot or cold climates, at high or low altitudes.
- Requires less fertilizer to keep it healthy.
- Can be mowed down to  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch when planted in sunlight.
- One pound of seed will plant 2,000 sq. ft. of new lawn area at a cost of only  $\frac{1}{4}$  per square foot.
- BenSun (A-34) Lawnglass Seed carries this guarantee: "If you are not satisfied with the results obtained from this seed, return the empty box with proof of purchase within 6 months to Warren's Turf Nursery, Inc. You will be supplied with more seed or your money will be refunded, your choice".

Available as Sod, Sod Plugs and Seed!

To keep your lawn green and healthy use WARREN'S LAWN FOOD, specially formulated (10-8-4 analysis for proper balance) to give your lawn the proper food nutrients. Use the lawn food the grass professionals use.

Youth Seminar '76 for high schoolers

LIVERMORE — For only $5 and a sleeping bag any high-schooler in the valley will be able to attend the Youth Seminar '76 on the Pentecostal Bible College campus, 1885 College Ave., from April 14 through April 16.

The seminar will be the highlight of the school year, as high schoolers from across the Western Region of the Pentecostal Church of God gather on the campus to study God's word.

During the day, condensed sessions of regular college courses will be taught by PBC instructors to give the visitors an idea of what college classes are like.

Recreation will round out the day as students and visitors challenge each other in volleyball, softball and other sports.

Panel discussions on topics pertinent to today's youth, sing-a-long, and Spirit-motivated worship services will add excitement to the night as the youth pack the campus chapel to hear the outstanding mystery guest expound God's word.

Youth Seminar '76 is not a spring version of youth camp. It is a special retreat designed to interest the high schooler in studying God's word and to give them a chance to explore PBC for themselves to see whether their college does indeed have merit.

You may call 443-2293 for further information.

Building the Zone 7 machine

When The Times first disclosed those "secret meetings" aimed at selecting and supporting a slate for the upcoming Zone 7 elections, we did so with the view that it was information which the Valley populace is entitled to share.

Now the other news media have followed our lead with their own versions of "the building of the Zone 7 machine," while some candidates see it as the "Developer Herald & News Machine."

This is not the first time a newspaper's representative has become involved in the pre-election process, particularly in this Valley of much politics and publishing. What is different this time is the format of those "secret" coffee klatches — Floyd Sparks leaves his Hayward newspaper base to make a personal, first-ever entry into Valley politics; bank executives are joined by major developers in responding to Mr. Sparks' invitation; a major effort emerges to "stop Don Miller and his crowd" in that upcoming election for three posts on a water board.

The Times also advised our readers, some weeks ago, that the battle for control of Zone 7 would soon spread into a struggle for control of this Valley's future. "Control the sewer and water systems and you control everything that goes on in these several communities."

In fairness, Floyd Sparks was not the first to conceive of Zone 7's ultimate power. Bob Pearson saw that potential for authority when he vacated a Pleasanton city council seat to move up to the water district's board of directors. Pearson begat Ryon, and they hope soon to be joined by Don Miller and Archer Futch, both of whom passed up new terms on the Livermore city council for the higher Zone 7 stakes.

So there is nothing all that "mysterious" — or undemocratic — about the decision by land developers and their friends to enter the Zone 7 fray. Indeed, had the Tri Valley Herald chosen to inform its readers from the outset of that newspaper's role, then those citizens would have understood what the special interest groups have known for some time: "The Zone 7 election in 1976 is for all the marbles."

FOCUS/School boards

160's other side

The other side of SB 160, the collective bargaining bill, deserves further light.

SB 160 seeks to bring the public into the picture through a sunshine provision which requires that initial contract proposals (from certificated groups) shall be presented at a public meeting and the vote of board members on them made a matter of public record.

But a school board member in a Southern California community, who's also a newspaper publisher, believes Sen. Albert Rodda's collective bargaining bill leaves two glaring loopholes that school boards, school administrators and school attorneys will hasten to take advantage of, to bypass the open meeting laws to discuss items of community concern in secret particularly when the pressure is on.

Most critical is the wiping out of the Brown Act's provision for giving public notice to the time and place of school board meetings. Without the restraint of the Brown Act boards will be able to meet any time, at any place, to discuss matters within the scope of negotiations.

Also, school boards do not evoke much confidence when they pull a situation such as occurred Tuesday night in Pleasanton.

A special meeting of the Amador Joint High School district board had been called for 7:45 p.m. to act on a single item — naming a new assistant principal at Dublin High School.

Only one of the five board members (Wally Decker) arrived on time for the meeting and a second came in at 8:10 — still not a quorum.

Since a third Amador board member was not forthcoming (administrators finally had to make phone calls to rouse a third member), the six members present decided to start their executive session. At 8:30 p.m. Amador president Jack Delaney arrived and the executive session was halted while the Amador trio accomplished the appointment of Dennis Wong as Dublin assistant principal.

Wong and his wife had cooled their heels for almost an hour while three-fifths of the Amador board was being rounded up!

But getting back to SB 160. The board member — publisher we mentioned earlier believes the new dodge will be "we have to discuss a matter within 'scope'".

The exclusionary section of SB 160 was added in the rush to get the bill in motion when the right time came and it was eclipsed by other portions of the Act.

It is possible even the executive director of the California School Boards Association does not fully appreciate the effects of this exclusionary section.

Rodda has even admitted, through his newsletter, that school boards should clear lines of communication with the public before negotiations start.

"The new public school collective bargaining law is the public's business and districts are urged to begin or step up programs to communicate internally and externally now before negotiations begins. Boards have nothing to hide, nothing to lose, and quite a lot to gain when the public is fully informed and bargaining proposals are open to the public."

One of the overlooked "features" of this collective bargaining bill deals with the creation of new reasons for non-public meetings of school boards — "negotiations can't take place in a fishbowl syndrome."

The point here is that there is an on-going effort throughout the state by board members and teachers to keep the doors to the inner circle closed. Such an event must never occur.

Letters to the Times

Fireworks

Editor, The Times:

Re your article concerning Livermore Rodeo parade. Did you know that the Livermore Council gives $1500 a year (at least it did in 1974 & '75 is expected to be in '76) for 4th of July fireworks? The display is done the evening of the 4th at Robertson Stadium and both police and firemen are used.

Evidently it is not lack of friends that dictates withdrawal of support of parade — but lack of interest in the rodeo.

Your article was excellent.

Benefit night

Editor, The Times:

I appreciate being able to publicly thank Alex Krenshaw and the employees of the Pizza Arcade for their generous help and support on March 22. The "Benefit Night" for the Junction Avenue Performing Arts Department was an outstanding success.

The great parental help and community support were also significant in the success of the evening.

Thank you one and all!

City's heritage

Editor, The Times:

Well, here it is, our fine city's final degradation. In the Bicentennial year of our fine country, our city council has decided to relegate one of our remaining heritages to ashes. There are many of us whom because of a feeling of patriotism to our founders, enjoy a parade, rodeo or otherwise, but because of some imported test tube citizens, we will loose this heritage.

You know, Rome was a great culture that lasted over 2,000 years. Why? because of heritages, belief in that heritage and willingness to expand upon it. Is this country not as great as the ancient Roman Empire? I think not, if we are to allow these scientific minds to affect our faith and illusive feeling of pride, our destiny and forefathers. This appears to be another undermining of the foundations of our city.

Does heritage and pride in what created our homes mean so little? ... Cowboys and cattle are a major portion of this valley's past, but if a few are allowed their way our children will never feel what began their destiny.

Is it not inconceivable that our destiny, freedom, and rights might be altered by this aristocratic act? If this is what is to happen, than we may as well all say Good Night ...

Local hospital

Editor, The Times:

Hooray for the people who are aware of community needs and are planning for a hospital in the San Ramon Valley area! It appears as if this group is working together logically dealing with the medical needs of all valley residents.

Frankly, I am a little tired of the VMH Board of Directors trying to get it together and decide whether they should continue to operate in Livermore's interest or the interest of the entire valley.

I, for one, would seek the routine services of a local pediatrician, general practitioner, gynecologist, ophthalmologist, etc. when, and if, good hospital care is provided within less than rural distance.

Please continue your good newspaper coverage. I would like to learn more about these plans and problems.

Endorsement

Editor, The Times:

I find it necessary at this time to clarify my current position in the Zone 7 election. It has been mistakenly represented in some of the papers that I have in fact endorsed Ed Kinney. I feel that this is irresponsible reporting because in fact none of the papers have personally contacted me to verify their information.

It is true that I did sign Ed Kinney's nomination papers. Ed is a personal friend of mine and when I was asked I saw no reason not to sign his papers. I have not at this time given my endorsement to any of the candidates.

I believe that the Zone 7 election is very important to all the residents to our valley and I hope that the voters will pay careful attention to the issues and not rely upon endorsements by individuals or newspapers when making their decisions.

Council bid

Editor, The Times: Dear Campaign Workers —

Thank you for your tremendous efforts in the recent city council campaign. Thanks to your party giving, coffee scheduling, precinct walking, accounting, ticket selling, telephoning, letter writing, sign posting and financial contributions we came extremely close; close enough to be a respectable fourth.

Happily, many of the programs we advocated during the campaign are being vigorously pursued by the new council. But, there is much to be done. Please join me in remaining active and offering constructive, positive suggestions to the new city administration in the next two years.

Allow me one more observation. The coalition of supporters you formed for my candidacy was one of the healthiest political happenings to occur here in the last few years. I think we can all take a great deal of credit for taking the first step in fashioning a new political group — one that will be fair, open and actively concerned about our community.

Foothill flu

Editor, The Times:

As I lay awake last night, suffering with the flu, my mind settled on the discontent of the residents of Foothill Road. An article in the Pleasanton Times brought the ill feelings to the surface again.

I seem the Supervisors of this noble County do not want to spend any dollars to make Foothill Road a safe roadway for our commuters and for our children biking to the high school or to town.

On what basis was this decision reached?

When has the Supervisor representing this end of the County had a constituents day?

When has the Supervisor representing this end of the County sent out a newsletter informing his constituents of the issues upon which he would be voting?

When has the Supervisor asked his constituents about any problems or suggestions they might have?

I'm calling upon the residents of this part of the County to hold their Supervisor accountable!

My temperature is rising again, hand me a new supervisor, er, I mean the as-pirin.

Feeling better,

ROUND the town

I wonder why a reader always feels so much more informed after studying back issues of the newspaper, compared to the empty feeling we get after pouring through today's edition.

It doesn't say much for today's news media. Personally, I blame the quality of today's news. Let's face it — people simply aren't as interesting these days as they were way back when. A glance through back issues of The Livermore Journal leaves the reader with a great sense of wonderment about the communities of our past.

They were movers and shakers in that day, and you'd better believe it. The town — Livermore or Pleasanton or Dublin and even Sunol — was run by "the most important people." A successful rancher would, often as not, maintain a substantial home in the town limits. And from that base he could run for town board of trustees, or control the successful candidates.

Names like Anderson and Fennell and Bothwell and Wentz appear on the pages of the Livermore Journal with just the right editorial dignity. Judge Charlie Gale is treated with the greatest of journalistic respect in old editions of The Pleasanton Times (although some who knew him will tell a much more colorful story of that rugged individualist).

So those old newspapers give us just a hint of how it really was. It is left to the imagination to conjure up the back-room jockeying that went into an event such as the building of a road ... that nearly always wound up at the gate of some important rural personage.

Even the raising of that Livermore flag pole, which was so colorfully recalled in Wednesday's editions of The Times, was an undertaking of mammoth proportions, involving the "most important people in town."

Lou Gardella is one still with us who remembers that big day, in September of 1905.

"The pole was immense ... seemed more like 590 feet long than 116 feet," Lou will tell you. "It took a number of home-town events to raise the necessary funds, and some of the big people in town still had to dig into their own pockets for the balance."

That's the way they did things. "Digging into their own pockets" was the accepted way of buying the flag, building the park, helping the family in distress.

"That's the way we ran the Rodeo and the parade for years," Lou recalls. "We never thought of asking the city council for money, mostly because they didn't have any anyway."

Lou is an avid reader of newspapers, past and present. And he caught this newspaper in an act of territorial misinformation.

"You said that Harold W. Anderson was the first and only native born of Livermore to serve as mayor of the city. I want you to know that I followed Hansie as mayor, and I was born here too."

But Lou believes that he and Anderson are the only ones to share that distinction. "I can't even think of anybody else who served on the council, before or after Hansie and me, who were native born of Livermore." If Lou is wrong, he expects to hear from other experts. That's the way it is, when you deal with ancient history.

Those town leaders of yesteryear did not confine their activity, or their influence, to just the local scene. They had great respect for the power of county and state office, and found time to keep in close touch with Oakland and Sacramento, even though it often meant a long journey in a horse-drawn cart.

There were two, maybe three Livermoreans who served in the State Assembly. A Pleasanton resident once served in the United States Congress, half a century ago. And of course Chester Stanley was a little-known Livermore rancher who "the right people" lined up for the First Supervisorial District post in Alameda County, starting a trend that was picked up by Pleasanton's John Murphy, and that persisted for some 30 years of Valley dominance over that First District.

The county board of yesteryear was also unique in that they always, to a man, recognized the importance of this hinterland. Just one 1932 edition of The Livermore Journal ("A Home Town Paper For Home Town Folks") recites the promised arrival of the entire county board for the upcoming Rodeo Parade.

The Journal was also forthright, as was their journalistic custom of that day. "GIANT NEGRO TO STAY 30 DAYS IN JAIL," one front page story is headlined. You can't print that sort of headline today, but then, neither can we do a lot of things that folks did, way back then.

They had a special way about them, and that's for sure.

Lighter Times

There was just one thing wrong with that picture of 10 entrants in the "Maid of Pleasanton" contest the other day.

There were no men in it. Half the population is being denied a chance at the satisfaction of being acknowledged as good-looking, popular, socially acceptable or whatever it is that beauty contest winners are.

Excluding us men from these contests also denies us the chance to compete for the role of the community's official representative at business groundbreaking and other important events in the city's liturgy.

There is a demand for men in beauty contests, if the high number of women who rave about Robert Redford's looks is any indication.

And why exclude men from the chance to be a community representative? Who knows, groundbreakings could become a better show than beauty contests.

Keep your head down

Mike Zampa

As far as Johnny Moore knows, he will make soccer history this season with the San Jose Earthquakes. It's a distinction he'd just as soon pass up, however.

Moore breezed through Pleasanton yesterday, drumming up interest for his team's exhibition contest Sunday April 11 in Livermore with the Seattle Sounders. He was also bound for a cyclery shop where he hoped to find a motorcycle helmet.

The 5-5, 142-pound forward will become, perhaps, the first soccer player to ever wear a helmet on the field when he returns to action later this month. Moore can't recall another.

It was Moore who suffered a dreadful concussion two weeks ago at the Cow Palace in an indoor soccer match with the Earthquakes. After two days in a South San Francisco hospital Johnny was released, out of danger but not out of fuzzy land.

Moore was knocked cold in a player collision, then slammed the back of his head on the unforgiving Cow Palace floor. The impact area is still tender, team physician Dr. Mayfield Harris, told him. So the helmet is a must to protect further blows in action.

There is only a remote possibility that Livermore fans will get to see Moore in his bonnet, however. The doctor has barred Johnny from action until later in April, perhaps two games into the North American Soccer League regular season. Moore isn't even allowed to fly for the next three weeks because of dangers caused by compression.

"I'd like to play in this Livermore game," he said yesterday; "but this thing is spooky — it's nothing to mess around with. Of course I tore all my ankle ligaments at the end of indoor season last year and didn't miss any matches. So you never know."

San Jose and Seattle will close out the exhibition schedule with their Livermore match at Robertson Park. It will be a crucial one, Earthquake brass says, because it will be the team's final opportunity to get acquainted before they start counting wins and losses. That makes it doubly important for San Jose because two people counted on heavily to shore up a weak defense, John Rowlands and Ivan Pavlovic, still haven't met their teammates. Rowlands, acquired from Seattle recently, and Pavlovic, Yugoslavian superstar signed just this week, won't begin playing with the Quakes until possibly this weekend.

They'll need time to become acclimated to the players, and coach Gabbo Gavric.

Seattle will find itself in the same position when it comes to Livermore. They have signed British star Geoff Hurst, who reported to the club just yesterday. Hurst, one of the celebrated players in England's soccer history, is expected to be "the franchise" this year for the Sounders. He too will have but a brief period to adjust in the Seattle system.

In fact, there is a remote possibility that his American debut will be made at Robertson Park. The Sounders would like to play Hurst before then, but may be unable to.

In any event, he will appear at Livermore.

Hurst, who has been playing for West Bromwich Albion in the English Football League, is the only player in history to score three goals in a World Cup championship game. His remarkable performance in the 1966 Cup handed England a 4-2 overtime victory against West Germany at Wembley Stadium.

He has played 49 games for the English national side, scoring 24 goals. That's sixth in the nation's all-time record book.

"Geoff has done everything there is to do in the game at the top level," said Seattle coach John Best. "He has tremendous touch and experience. He'll be a good teacher for our younger players."

Moore, San Jose's assistant general manager, said yesterday 2,000 advanced seats have been sold for the Earthquake-Sounder meeting.

That nearly insures that the Livermore game will draw other Earthquake exhibitions this year removed from San Jose's Spartan Stadium.

Games at Balboa Stadium in San Francisco, and at Chico, drew crowds of approximately 4,500 fans.

An exhibition of NASL West Coast All-Stars last year in a driving rain lured 5,000 to Robertson Park.

The contest a week from Sunday is a benefit, with portions of the gate going to California Youth Soccer Association's District III in this region.

Tickets for the exhibition are available at Travel Universal in Pleasanton and Livermore, the Livermore recreation department and Dutch Pride Dairy in Dublin. They are also available through BASS and Ticketron outlets in Northern California. Seats are $3 for adults and $1.50 for anyone under 21. For information, call 998-5425.

Cage dunk back

By The Associated Press
When Karem Abdul-Jabbar still was known as Lew Alcindor, the slam dunk still was one of college basketball's most exciting moments. Then the lords of the sport outlawed it.

Now it's back. And, for the most part, college coaches love it.

It was before the 1966-67 season, when Alcindor was blossoming into one of the most dominant centers in the game, that the stuff shot was made illegal. From then on, those with the ability to dunk had to be as gentle with the ball around the hoop as their smaller teammates.

Now they can crash away to their hearts' content—as long as they don't pull down the rim or the backboard in the process.

In fact, the National Basketball Rules Committee, which voted Wednesday in Philadelphia to allow dunking during games of the 1976-77 season, took one step to at least cut down on that possibility.

The dunk was made legal only during games. A technical foul will be called on any player who makes a stuff during pre-game warmups or intermissions.

By the clock Ricky Pruneau's 53.5 victory in the 440-yard dash yesterday was highly forgettable. Consensus was, however, that Pruneau provided Amador Valley High the impetus to hold off visiting Dublin, 77-59, in EBAL track.

Coming off the disabled list after a 10-day ankle injury, Pruneau gave the Dons a big mental lift, according to coach Rich Canfield. He also put points on the scoreboard, not only winning the quarter mile, but the 880 as well. The Amador senior also ran a leg on the victorious mile relay quartet.

"What he gave me was guts," said Canfield. "He's been out 10 days. Then he comes back Monday for an intermediate workout, Tuesday for a speed workout, and nothing Wednesday. Then today — this."

"He gave everybody a big lift," said Canfield. "You build your track team around sprinters, and Dublin has some good ones. So we were either going to go way up, or way down, depending on what he did."

Pruneau injured the ankle (a stress fracture according to his coach) running against teammate Reed McCauley in a 440 workout nearly two weeks ago. He pushed too hard in the stretch and suffered the damage.

Yesterday it was McCauley pushing Pruneau, finishing second to provide sorely needed points for the Dons.

Amador heavily dominated in the field events, sweeping the pole vault, discus and high jump.

That more than offset Dublin's rapidly improving one-man army, Chuck Gangnuss.

The Gael junior won three more individual races yesterday, and set yet another school record in the 120 high hurdles. Gangnuss blazed to a 14.6 clocking, shading his own mark by two tenths of a second. It was also a stadium record for the Amador track.

Gangnuss won the 330 low hurdles in 39.3 (another stadium record) and the 100 in 10.2.

Dan Harvey provided two Dublin victories, capturing the mile in 4:32.5 and the two mile at 9:55.

Kurt Hermann led Amador's assault in the field, winning the high jump at 6-0. Teammate Roger Brothers won the discus with a 128-10 heave, and Karl Schell took the shot put at 45-9.

Pruneau ran a 2:04 in winning the 880, little more than one second off his best time prior to the injury. "He ran a 2:02.8 last month, so he's back in the ball park," said Canfield. "He's a fantastic kid — just the kind you like to have on your team."

Gangnuss' time in the high hurdles is probably the top time in the East Bay this year, depending on how other challengers fare in action yesterday. Chuck ran a 14.8 against American High early this season, tops in the EBAL until Scott Campbell dipped to 14.7 on Monday.

Wolves crush California

DANVILLE — In what could easily be considered a fairly entertaining warm-up for their annual relays tomorrow, San Ramon High School took the measure of California, 116-16, in a EBAL track meet yesterday.

The Grizzlies' fresh soph team, however, found the win column, posting a come-from-behind 80-55 victory.

The Cal girls also ran to a 59-34 victory.

Ironically, the Wolves, again the favorite to win the league track crown, ran away with 14 of 15 first places en route to their most one-sided win of the season. Coach Dan Stevens' club, however, really ran away from a Cal team composed of only six varsity runners. San Ramon's overall load was picked up by a host of sophomores.

With the victory, San Ramon moved to 2-0 and 3-2 overall. Cal dropped to 0-2 in the EBAL.

Highlighting the meet was San Ramon's Mike Marhenke's four victories. Marhenke won the 120 high hurdles, 330 low hurdles and also ran legs on the winning 440-yard and mile relay teams.

California's Craig Cline brought on the Grizzlies' only firsts in the long and triple jumps.

The Wolves' all-around man, Mike Bowles, easily won the 100, shot put, discus and was third in the 120 high hurdles.

Surprising Cal aims for third win

GRIZZLY HAS EXCELLENT BATTING AVERAGE

The jury's still out on California High's young baseball team, but there's imposing early-season evidence to indicate that the Grizzlies will be a factor in the EBAL pennant chase all year long.

After back-to-back victories to open the schedule, much of the talk on campus has focused on baseball. It's the first time this season Grizzly supporters have been able to come out of the closet and brag.

Optimism is guarded, because with only one senior, things can collapse in a hurry. But Cal has played with maturity in victories over defending champion Livermore and pre-season favorite Granada. Tuesday it defeated Steve Stone, one of the league's best pitchers.

A win today at San Ramon could put California all alone atop the league standings. At worst, the Grizzlies could be tied for the top spot with Monte Vista, and those teams meet next week.

It's a stunning turn of events for Cal's coach, Bob Benatar, who figured at the start of the year that two victories might be a fine season's total.

"If we lose the rest of our games it would still be a good season," he said yesterday. "But there's no reason we can't win a few more. The league is evenly matched this year, and the champion might end up losing three games."

"We'd sure like to win today and go into Tuesday's game tied with Monte Vista," Benatar said. "It would be good for us. There's been a lot of talk around school about the team. We're getting a lot of support from teachers and parents, and it's something we've needed."

Something else the Grizzlies needed at the start of the season was an offense. California had only one .300 hitter last season when it played strictly junior varsity baseball. He moved away.

So Benatar and co-coach Ed Noble expected little from their hitters.

That's why they're still marvelling over the events of the past week. In its first two games Cal lashed out 16 base hits and compiled a team batting average of .281. The Grizzlies have four of the top 10 hitters in the EBAL, the two leading home run hitters, and the top two in runs batted in.

Chuck Cary is 3-for-6 with three homers and five RBI's. Larry Walters is 3-for-7 with two homers and six RBI's. Bret Cary is 3-for-7, and on top of that, he's 2-0 as a pitcher.

"I guess we're just lucky," says Benatar. "We've got some talent. Some of our kids have to work at hitting, but those three are naturals. We spend a lot of time on it," said the Cal coach; "but no more than anyone else."

Bret Cary will be on the mound today at San Ramon in search of his third straight victory. He pitched an inning and a third of hitless relief Tuesday to pick up the victory over Granada. Brother Chuck worked the first six and two-thirds. It was an important win for California, which squandered a two-run lead and seemed bound for a defeat. The Grizzlies bounced back, however, benefited by a close call on Mike Daugherty's game-winning double along the left field line in the bottom of the eighth inning.

The two Cary's are the heart of Cal's pitching staff. They'll both work in every game, Benatar said, if needed. Neither will throw more than eight innings a week, however. If Bret is chased from the mound early today, Daugherty will come on for middle inning relief, since Chuck is near his eight innings already.

In other action today, Monte Vista takes its share of the league lead to Granada. Mustang pitchers have allowed just two runs in two games in league play. The Matadors have given up eight, but only one was earned.

Livermore, with Rich Palmer stroking at 4-for-7 from the plate, will be at Foothill.

Amador is at home to face Dublin. The Dons have the top EBAL hitter through two games, shortstop Mike Johnson. He has four hits in six at bats. Don pitching has allowed four unearned runs in its two games.

San Ramon Relays draws EBAL teams

Most of the EBAL's track teams will get a good indication of their relative strengths and weaknesses at the 17th annual San Ramon Relays tomorrow in Danville.

Only Granada will not participate in this meet. The Matadors will participate in the Martinez Relays at Diablo Valley College. This is the oldest prep relay meet in Northern California, having started in the early 1930s.

San Ramon mentor Dan Stevens thinks there is no clear-cut favorite in the Danville meet's varsity division.

"We really don't know that much about all the teams," he admitted. "There should be about 12 or 13 teams competing in the meet."

The other schools in the meet will come from the Foothill Athletic League. Those expected to compete are Las Lomas, Miramonte, Campolindo, Del Valle and possibly Acalanes and Liberty.

The meet will consist of basically relays events. The only open event will be the two-mile.

San Ramon will move some of its better sophomores down to the frosh-soph division for the meet, according to Stevens.

"We have seven sophomores who usually compete in the varsity division that will be competing on the frosh-soph team for this meet," he said. "On the varsity level Mike Bowles will be one of our top hopes in the sprints and weight events."

Bowles, a rugged 215-pounder, can run the 100 in about 10.2 and has thrown the discus over 160 feet this season.

Although the varsity division looks like a wide-open affair, Amador, Livermore and possibly Acalanes and Dublin figure to have the best shots at the championship.

Granada will compete in the large-school and girls' divisions at DVC.

Piedmont Hills of San Jose (probably the biggest high school in Northern California) and San Mateo are rated the favorites in the large-school division. Keith Taylor of Piedmont Hills is rated as one of the top sprinters in the state. He ran a legal 9.6 100 and a wind-aided 9.4 last season.

Montreal years away

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Montreal Expos are on a youth movement, but any climb up the standings would seem contingent on the maturity of some of their players.

Only five members of the Expos' 39-man winter roster will be 30 years old on opening day when Montreal begins its eighth National League season. Twenty-four of those 39 players will be 24 or younger.

Even the Expos' manager is new and young.

Karl Kuehl was hired in the offseason to replace

Gene Mauch, the only previous Expos manager, who led them to sixth place twice, fifth place three times and fourth place two times.

Kuehl has seen many of the Expos' youngsters during his terms in the Montreal farm system, including the last two seasons as manager of Memphis in the International League. At 38, Kuehl is the youngest manager in the major leagues.

"We have to try and grow with the players," said Kuehl. "Since the Expos started each game during '75 with at least two rookies and sometimes as many as five in the lineup, we have, obviously, as a team, considerably more major league experience than last year."

"This will be a big plus."

The pitching staff is very young with the average age of the 17 pitchers on the roster 25.12. Steve Rogers, 26, will be the Expos' starting pitcher in the opener April 9 on the road against the New York Mets.

After a 15-22 record in 1974, Rogers fashioned an 11-12 mark last season, leading the Expos staff in starts with 35, complete games with 12 and innings pitched with 251.2.

"We have some solid starters in fellows like Steve Rogers, Dan Warthen, Woodie Fryman, Steve Renko and Clay Kirker," Kuehl said. "I am extremely confident that Dennis Blair (8-15 in 1975) will return to his pitching form of 1974 when he won 11 games during part of that season. His return to form could make for a very pleasant pitching situation."

Also, Don Carrithers

pitched well the latter part of the season and since I've seen Don Stanhouse pitch so well at Memphis, I am confident we have the arms."

Although Kuehl would like to see some more depth in the bullpen, he knows he can count on

Dale Murray, who was 15-8

last season in 63 games.

"Murray is unquestionably one of baseball's premier relievers," Kuehl said.

Murray rarely had the luxury of protecting big leads since the Expos' approach baseball like the

Montreal Expos approach

hockey. They don't do a lot of hitting."

last season, and nobody in lower.

County report aid denied

Oakland Scavenger Co.

Alameda County Bureau
HAYWARD — Oakland Scavenger Company was turned down Tuesday in its request to get county planning department aid in working out "conditions of approval" for its proposed 1,540 acre garbage dump in the Altamont Hills.

The county's chief garbage collectors have applied for a conditional use permit to fill in rolling acreage north of I-580 near the San Joaquin County border. They wanted staff time to work out a set of conditions the county will require before it issues the permit.

Zoning administrator Richard Flynn has been accepting additional comments on the draft Environmental Impact Report (EIR) first published in January.

The final EIR is expected by mid-April and the application for the permit will be heard at the end of the month.

Rather than grant a blanket permit to use the site until it is filled, the EIR recommends issuing permits limited in time and acreage filled.

At the end of, say, three years or 100 acres, the firm would have to apply for subsequent conditional use permits.

The county's Solid Waste Management Plan Advisory Committee fears technology will accelerate the ability to convert waste to energy and recycle formerly buried garbage.

They want reins put on the site so that it is not more profitable to bury garbage than to recycle it or convert it to energy.

The EIR also recommends a comprehensive ground water monitoring program to prevent harmful leakage into the underground water supply.

With the exception of one fill site, the area drains naturally into San Joaquin County. That one area will be resloped to force water into the San Joaquin drain.

Two ranches currently operate on the land, but by limiting the acreage that may be filled at one time, the remainder still will be suitable for agriculture.

Once the canyons are filled and covered, the land

Alameda County Bureau
HAYWARD — County Planning Commissioners said Monday that Valley Memorial Hospital's preliminary Environmental Impact Report on their proposed Pleasanton hospital failed to address five key questions.

No satisfactory explanation was given for the need to build a second hospital some five miles from the 110-bed Livermore facility, commissioners argued. The draft EIR also failed to list the criteria used to pick the Santa Rita Road and West Las Positas Boulevard site and made no mention of the populations or areas the hospital would serve.

The hospital would be built in the path of the 100 year flood plain, commissioners complained, adding other hospitals are built on higher ground.

The draft report does not discuss the areas' needs for doctors' offices even though some 40 acres adjacent to the hospital would be rezoned to accommodate doctors' facilities.

The 23-acre, $366,000 parcel is little more than two miles from the Livermore Airport and the EIR does not probe the potential noise and safety impacts inherent in the project, the commission said.

Furthermore, the preliminary report fails to include specific plans for the area approved by the county or Pleasanton.

CC County jail unit pledges to act fast

By PAT KEEBLE

Lesher News Bureau

With any luck at all, the last phase in coming to terms with the county jail problem has at last gotten underway.

The first meeting of the jail committee, formally known as the Detention Facility Advisory Committee, was held earlier this week, and so far there are no complaints to the mandate that the committee work, and work hard, to do its job in only three months.

Superior Court Judge Coleman Fannin, unanimously elected chairman, set a schedule of weekly Monday afternoon meetings at least through April, and some committee members were immediately assigned to subcommittee duties beginning next week. Other subcommittees will be set up and their meetings will add to the overall burden of the committee members.

The committee's basic function is to decide where the jail should be, and, based on the site, how it should be redesigned.

All hands are generally agreed that it will basically conform to the national prison standards demanded in the successful initiative effort which qualified earlier this year. If the committee is successful in meeting the demands, and the Board of Supervisors approves its recommendations, the petition need not go on the ballot.

Representatives of the dissident groups are on the committee, albeit not in the numbers they had hoped. The committee is weighed in favor of the administration.

But this is balanced by the dictates of the initiative. The only way, seemingly, the supervisors can get out of meeting its demands would be to let it go to a vote and have the people vote against it, a poor chance.

The only other route would be to have the whole thing go to court, and while County Counsel John Clau- sen wasn't referring to that type of suit when he said the current jail may be indefensible in court, it could well apply.

The committee members at their first meeting were briefed on the financial, statutory and legal background of the county jail problem by the administration.

Members asked for, and were assured by Judge Fannin they will get, a similar orientation by those who want to see a more enlightened program for prisoners, including better programs to see them helped to stay out of jail.

A review of the committee membership is revealing in estimating how the committee will work.

There are six government officials as voting members, 10 representatives of community groups, five representatives of county boards and commissions in the Human Resources field, five public members, each named by a county supervisor, and five government officials named as ex-officio and non-voting members.

The voting officials are: Richard Bartke, El Cerrito city councilman, appointed by Supervisor James Kenny; Leonard Gianno, Martinez city councilman, appointed by Alfred Dias; Brian Murphy, Walnut Creek student intern, named by James Moriarty; George Krueger, Concord city treasurer, named by Warren Boggess; and Sal Jimmo, retired Pittsburg police chief, named by Edmund Lnscheid.

The public members are: Richard Fannin, Judge Norman Spellberg representing the Municipal Court Judges Association, Sheriff Harry Ramsay, District Attorney William O'Malley, Public Defender Patrick Murphy, and county Probation Officer John Davis.

The judges have been outspoken in calling for immediate construction of a jail, and were disappointed when plans for the new facility fell through in December. Davis is in charge of most of the county's programs for alternatives to incarceration.

The representatives of community groups include:

Lucretia Edwards, Richmond, League of Women Voters; Suzanne Rickard, Lafayette, American Association of University Women; William Wainwright, Martinez, Citizens for Community Involvement, the leading group against the old jail plans; Leo Garfield, Richmond Police Chief, county Police Chiefs Association; John Huddleston, Concord Police Captain, county Peace Officers Association; James Davis, Antioch, county Mayors Conference; Louise Clark, Lafayette, a mover in CCI but representing the Roman

Between now and the end of June, these people must come up with a basic plan for redesigning the jail, within the $20 million available, that will provide the necessary detention facility for the foreseeable future and at the same time encourage an enlightened program of reducing crime and helping the possibly wayward become productive members of society.

What they come up with could be the best county jail and rehabilitation program in the country.

LeClaire for Murphy

PLEASANTON — Pleasanton Vice Mayor Joyce LeClaire will serve as coordinator for Supervisor John Murphy's re-election campaign in the Livermore Valley.

In announcing her support for Murphy's bid for a fifth term, LeClaire said she will devote full-time to the campaign until the June 8 election.

LeClaire was first elected to the Pleasanton City Council in 1974, and was elected Vice Mayor in March.

A native of Texas, she has been active in Democratic Party affairs for a number of years, serving as president of the Pleasanton Democratic Club and as a current member of the State Democratic Central Committee.

LeClaire will coordinate the campaign in Livermore, Pleasanton, Dublin, Sunol and the unincorporated area of the Livermore Valley.

Other candidates for the supervisorial post are Valerie Raymond of Livermore; Rob Alves, Sally Saint and Irene Vincent of Fremont.

Giersch reception

A champagne reception for Louise Giersch, candidate for Contra Costa Supervisor, District Five, is planned for Sunday, April 4 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Antioch Women's Club, 509 G St., Antioch.

Celine Carpenter and her guitar will entertain. Refreshments and coffee will be provided.

The drawing for a macrame plant holder will be held.

Donations for the reception and plant drawing tickets are accepted by the committee (757-3883) or may be obtained at the club house.

The public is invited.

San Ramon is part of the fifth district.

The day they raised the flag

The setting of that flag pole and the raising of the first Stars and Stripes was a big day for the new "Town of Livermore." The year was 1905, and the 33-year-old Old Town had been searching for some landmark to identify that community. The site chosen was First Street at South Livermore Avenue, within a few feet of where that flag pole still stands today. The 116-foot wooden pole was a mammoth undertaking, both to purchase and to erect. Leading citizens from throughout Murray

Township and probably Alameda and Contra Costa counties turned out for the big event — as is evident from the fine carriages seen in this photo. All of the men and all of the women wore hats, of course. The reviewing stand is visible in the center of the crowd, close by the "Livermore Hotel." This view looks south down Livermore Avenue, toward what is today the site of the Post Office.

East Bay Parks staff win 7.9 per cent hike

If park workers at East Bay Regional Parks like Shadow Cliffs and Del Valle seem a little cheerier this week, it's because they're receiving 7.9 percent raises effective April 1.

In contrast to last April's bitter strike, this year raises quietly went through that put General Manager Richard Trudeau's salary at $35,175.

The district has seven other top management positions, from assistant general manager at $29,442 down to chief acquisition, $28,796; chief, administrative $27,425; chief, parks and interpretation, $26,275 and three positions at $25,023: chief of planning and design, controller, chief of public safety.

Middle management salaries stop at $15,125 for the affirmative action coordinator.

Union workers as well as management received 7.9 percent raises. The cost for the two-county park district's management employees will total $55,000. For its 174 members of Local 2428 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees it comes to $206,280 more a year.

The EBRPD board (who receive a $50-per-meeting stipend) turned down after considerable debate payment of full dental and health insurance costs which were estimated at $6,758. However, they did approve three fringe benefits for management employees. From now on, a management employee who leaves voluntarily after 10 years' employment will be paid for one-third of his unused sick leave to a maximum of 45 days; will be paid for a maximum of seven days' unused vacation each year; and will be allowed to make salary contributions into a tax-sheltered retirement plan.

In addition to their raises and benefits, top and middle management employees will soon be eligible for 5 percent merit pay increases. That was a recommendation of the Arthur Young management study recently completed.

Meanwhile, union employees will be receiving additional raises over the coming year as they pass longevity milestones and move up on the salary step schedule.

Cost-of-living raises for EBRPD's 23 public safety officers who are members of the Police Association will be considered this month. So will the nine EBRPD workers in

"unrepresented" categories. All are expected to accept the same raise as the rest of the staff.

Students, staff celebrate Public Schools Week April 29

LIVERMORE — Livermore High students and staff will be celebrating Public Schools' Week on April 29 with a big education fair in the boys' gym.

They're planning presentations by the music, physical education and home economics departments as well as exhibits from a number of departments.

The fair will be open from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 in the evening. All parents of Livermore High students and anyone else interested in the school's program are invited to attend the festivities.

The fair will be open

Dropoff area extended

Work is continuing on extension of the dropoff area along Pleasanton Avenue near the main gate to the County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton. The project was budgeted for $65,000 and also includes improvements to Palm Way, the main entry way into the Fairgrounds. The latter includes undergrounding of utilities on Palm so as to protect the stately palms now in place. Scene here is looking toward main gate next to administration offices.

Chabot offers mental health training

"Field Work Training in Community Mental Health," a unique course designed to give training and supervised field experience in community mental health work, is being offered by the human services department of Chabot College in conjunction with the Alameda County Mental Health Association.

The 2-unit course will be held Wednesdays from 12 noon to 3 p.m. plus field work, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., with hours on a need basis.

Students must be prepared to sign up for the 2-quarter sequence and must have daytime hours available to work in the field with clients.

Students will be taught to serve as "advocates" for mentally ill or emotionally troubled people who need considerable help to survive in the community, and who find it difficult or impossible to get this help on their own.

Student advocates will assist these individuals with everyday care, jobs and support in meeting general social needs.

The first meeting of the course, Human Services 98.6, Section 71, is Wednesday, April 7, noon to 3 p.m., in room 310B, Chabot College Hayward campus.

Interested students may register with the instructor for the first day of class.

For more information call instructor Doris Slater, 538-1700, or Chabot College, 782-3000.

Senior hub sought by Pleasanton staff

PLEASANTON — The recreation department would like to create a daily drop-in center for senior citizens during the coming fiscal year, according to Recreation Director Robert Caparuso.

The center, which would be available for a few hours each day, was mentioned as one of the goals of the recreation department at a city council study session Monday night.

Participation in the Senior VIP's organization has increased from 100 to approximately 250 persons, so the drop-in center is well warranted, said Caparuso.

In fact, the group has become so popular that it appears the recreation department will have to add a second seniors organization to accommodate new seniors who want to participate.

Other service goals announced by Caparuso were: increasing teen excursions 15 percent; increasing the level of service in summer playgrounds; and increasing the level of service to six to 12 year olds during the school year.

In the area of fee classes, the department aims to increase participation and revenue in Cultural Arts Classes by 30 percent, bring and sponsor professional concerts and artists to Pleasanton, and implement as many new classes as facilities, instructors and revenues dictate.

Caparuso noted that the fee classes compete against summer school and adult education classes whose school district subsidies allow even cheaper fees than those found in park department courses. In light of this, the department tries to keep its fees as low as possible, said Caparuso.

In its sports and athletics division, the department hopes to increase women sports programs, establish sports clinics and training sessions, and obtain uses of additional indoor athletic facilities.

Caparuso noted that the experiment with indoor tennis at the county fairgrounds has worked well, with the department realizing a surplus from the operation.

Caparuso's administrative goals are reviewing the department's policy of co-sponsorship of recreation.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE
A NEGATIVE DECLARATION PROJECT DESIGNATION:
Z-75-182, UP-75-28

In accordance with the provisions of the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures, zoning and conditional use permit applications Z-75-182 and UP-75-28, an application to build and operate a swimming pool sales and service facility, has been determined not to require an EIR but rather a negative declaration.

The project consists of constructing a 1,050 sq. ft. retail sales and office building, together with outdoor swimming pool models, and operating a swimming pool sales and service business on a 20,760 sq. ft. site located on the southwest corner of Pimlico and Brockton Drives.

The site, located in an undeveloped commercial freeway district adjacent to I-580, suffers from ambient noise levels greater than those proposed in commercial districts. The building construction, utilizing noise reduction measures, would reduce the interior noise levels to acceptable levels. The use proposed would not add to the noise climate created by the nearness of I-580. The low intensity of the proposed use would not create any significant environmental effects. It is the intent of the City Manager that this project will not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Housing and Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, California 94566, telephone 846-3202.

Unless any written appeals of this case are received by this department within ten (10) days of the above date of publication of this notice in the Pleasanton Times, whichever is later, this decision will become effective.

CITY OF PLEASANTON NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION PROJECT DESIGNATION: UP-76-6 April 2, 1976

In accordance with the provisions set forth in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and conditional use permit applications Z-76-6, UP-76-6, it has been determined not to require an EIR but rather the filing of a negative declaration.

The project consists of the construction and operation of a church complex at 4300 Mirador Drive. The existing Presbyterian Church, a historical landmark located at 100 Neal Street, together with auxiliary buildings, would be moved to the new site. The church would be moved to a garden setting behind the existing church - owned buildings. The old church and new addition would create a two-story structure containing a sanctuary and social hall which would cover about 6,800 square feet of ground space. A one-story building would be moved from 100 Neal Street to serve as a garden storage building in the extreme southern portion of the approximately 6.5 acre site. Entry and exit would be from Mirador Drive with a partial entry/exit to Sharab Court. Off-street parking spaces for 77 vehicles would be supplied and the entire area land-scaping.

The finding of the City Manager that this project will not create, to a significant degree, any of the environmental impacts listed in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Housing and Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, California 94566, telephone 846-3202.

CITY OF PLEASANTON NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION PROJECT DESIGNATION: Z-76-55 April 2, 1976

In accordance with the provisions set forth in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and conditional use permit application Z-76-55, an application to construct and operate a retail/office building, has been determined not to require an EIR but rather the filing of a negative declaration.

The project consists of the construction of a two-story commercial building at 608 Main Street. The building would include 1,360 square feet of retail shop space on the ground level and 1,075 square feet of office space on the second level as well as landscaping and off-street parking with access off of Main Street.

The building would be constructed on a presently vacant lot just north of the Kolm Hardware, a design-historic structure. The design would blend well with the existing building to the north but would not blend with the Kolm building. However, landscaping located at the juncture of these two buildings would minimize the disparity in styles. Aside from possible ingress-exgress problems through a narrow driveway, this structure would have no beneficial impact upon the downtown environment. The site is well situated in the existing commercial center of town and would not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

CITY OF PLEASANTON NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION PROJECT DESIGNATION: GP-76-2 April 2, 1976

In accordance with the provisions of the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures, general plan amendment GP-76-2 has been determined not to require an EIR but rather a negative declaration.

The project consists of revising the Circulation Element of the General Plan to show (1) a frontage road running just south of I-580 between Hopyard Road and Santa Rita Road, this being the first road to intersect Tassajara Road opposite Chelsea Court and (2) a "U"-shaped road serving the industrial area east of Hopyard Road intersecting Hopyard Road at Stoneridge Drive and at a point approximately 1,400 feet north of Stoneridge Drive.

The current Circulation Element suggests a frontage road extending along the path of the presently proposed route and shows no circulation system for the large industrially zoned land. The proposed routes would buffer future uses from I-580 somewhat and would enable industrial traffic to utilize a route other than the main thoroughfares of Hopyard Road and Tassajara Road, both of which run adjacent to residential areas. The proposed "U" shape street would minimize intersections with Hopyard Road and place those intersections at the most desirable locations. It is the finding of the City Manager that this general plan amendment would not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

In accordance with the provisions set forth in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and conditional use permit application UP-76-6, it has been determined not to require an EIR but rather the filing of a negative declaration.

The project consists of the conversion of a portion of the existing residence which would be converted to a single family residence, garage, playroom and off-street parking installed. The school would accept children from 2 to 7 years of age and would be limited to 30 students.

The Montessori School would generate increased daytime noise and traffic from the site. Division Street is a narrow street, with no on-street parking on the site of the proposed site. It carries little traffic, however. Proposed on-site parking should alleviate any parking problems and the street, though narrow, is adequate to handle the small traffic flow to the school. It is the finding of the City Manager that this project will not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

Neglect turns SR juveniles to crime

DANVILLE — Juveniles in the San Ramon Valley turn to crime because of parental neglect and lack of community identity, the county director of juvenile institutions said yesterday.

Cecil Lendrum outlined the county juvenile probation department's policies and procedures in a speech to the San Ramon Valley Liaison Committee yesterday morning.

The county probation department's staff of 475 paid employees and 150 volunteers, operating with a $12 million budget, coordinate the adult services, juvenile field services program and juvenile services agencies.

Probation officers handle pre-sentence recommendations, bail reports and supervision of parole of adult offenders from the superior and municipal courts. He enters the scene sooner in juvenile cases, helping to find a home or determine proper custody of the youth.

The juvenile field services arm of the probation department reviews the nature of the offense in each case and has 48 hours to decide whether the youth will be held or released.

In the majority of instances where the youth committed a crime which is not an adult offense, such as school truancy, runaways from home, or drinking alcohol, he is released to his parents with a notice to appear in court.

Lendrum said that two-thirds of juveniles arrested are released within 24 hours. The other third are detained for a preliminary hearing in court or merely a further review by the probation department.

If the case merits a trial, the court proceeding is handled in an adversary manner similar to adult trials. This is a recent change, said Lendrum, as past juvenile trials were more of a family-oriented hearing.

If the youth is found guilty, the probation officer reviews the case in depth, considering the nature of the offense, extent of family-oriented hearing.

If the youth is found guilty, the probation officer reviews the case in depth, considering the nature of the offense, extent of damage, prior record and family hardship. He then forwards to the judge a report recommending either counseling, a weekend work program, or internment.

The judge can declare the youth a ward of the court if the case is extreme in nature, the youth is incorrigible and has no parents. The juvenile would then remain on probation until he turns 18.

Lendrum said many youngsters are assigned to a private institution, such as the Fred Finch Home in Oakland or Sunny Hills in San Rafael. The cost runs between $500-$700 per individual each month, he added.

Bicentennial pageant

"E Pluribus Unum" is the title of a Bicentennial pageant being planned by the Home and School Club of Harvest Park School in Pleasanton. The pageant, which will be presented April 29 at the County Fairgrounds, will have a cast of 200 students and parents. An original script is being written for the pageant by Pat Thorn, who was born and raised in England. Pictured at a costume fitting session earlier this week are June Turchino, seated, Becky Bell, standing, and Harvest Park students Cindy Turchino, portraying a frontier woman, and Mark Farrel, a Confederate soldier. Mothers in the club are making costumes for the pageant.

How to save $8,000 on a Cadillac Seville...

buy a FORD GRANADA.

COMPARE LOOKS

You can see why Granada is mistaken for Seville and vice-versa.

About the same      Different

COMPARE RIDE

In riding comfort tests measuring vibration levels Granada ranked first in some, second in others. In other words unless you drive around on 2 x 4's at varying speeds, you'll probably never notice a difference.

COMPARE QUIET

On a smooth road surface at about 55 mph the Seville interior was 1.5 decibels quieter.

COMPARE PRICE

For about $4,000 you get the looks, ride and quiet of a Cadillac Seville. For only $8,000 more you get the Cadillac name.

COMPARE DEALERS

One thing no Cadillac at any price can ever offer—a Ford dealer. And when it comes to taking good care of you, your Ford dealer is worth his weight in gold.
